October 2024 tour: The Progressive Brunch for 2024 - Well, this year everything turned out a little different now that we're down on our membership. Although, I did notice that the food was as usual, all delish and plenty to choose from!

Starting at the Fullers for the appetizer, we had lots to choose from. Even for those who go for the healthy foods, it was all there. And all good too! Fresh fruits, meat & cheese plater, miscellaneous assortment of crackers, shrimp with cocktail sauce, date nut bread and Danish. It was all there. And to wash it all down there was there was coffee, apple or orange juice and good ole H²O. A surprise event during our time there was when Sue Eatherton came over to spend some time with the group.

When we arrived over to the Thompson's, we were joined by more members who had brought more food. It seems like the outdoor room is always a popular place to gather. .

For the main course we were blessed with a macaroni salad that included olives and cherry tomatoes and a green salad that had quite a mixture of goodies added and was dressed with a Ranch style dressing. For the main course we had some homemade Lasagna and a Chicken / Pasta casserole of some kind. To go with this, there was coffee, apple juice and bottled water to wash it all down. To wrap this all up, there was festive pumpkin pie with whipped cream topping and some scrumptious YUMMY Magic Bars.

The weather turned out to be such a beautiful day that once everyone got their food they seem to spread out, either inside or outside to enjoy their meal and the company of fellow model A'ers. Always time for conversation while enjoying the day with friends and first-class food. Well ok, so it went on into the afternoon and the evening too. WOW, as always, a genuine enjoyable Jewel City club model A event!

Participants in this day's jewel City club event was: Pat & George Erhard, Ellen & Eric Fuller, Frances & Jerry Geisen, Adrienne Grigorian, Carol & Al Magee, Bob Reeves, Mary & Walt Thompson and some late arrivals from a conflicting obligation, Ruth & Darrell Payne.
